Rug Hooking

Thursday's beginning January 19th
Fairfield Woods Branch Library

6:00pm-7:30pm

Gilda Mecca, a member of the Nutmeg Rughooking Group will facilitate.

Rug hooking is one of America's oldest art forms. In the early part of the 19th century families were able to cover the floors by cutting clothing and hooking it into burlap feed sacks that had been cut open. Rug hooking is a little more sophisticated now. Join this beginners group to discover the beauty and workmanship of rug hooking. Materials will be supplied.

Registration is required and limited.

All programs are free and open to the public. Limited seating. Register online at www.fairfieldpubliclibrary.org, or call 203-255-7308.
